Council To "Clean House" Grand Jury Will Oversee Job

BUILDINGS NEEDED AT MARCHBANKS AND LINCOLN

Recreation Commission Urges Immediate Action

Several measures to improve existing recreation facilities were strongly recommended Tuesday evening by members of the newly created Daly City Recreation Commission.

Chairman George Pingry today said the following suggestions have been made to the city council for their immediate attention:

1. A check should be made to see whether it would be feasible to move the recreation building at 101 Parkview to the middle level of Marchbanks Park. This building would be used to much needed "housing" for smaller children at the playground. The Commission suggested the expense of the moving, plus repairing the building, could be financed by selling the lot upon which the structure now stands. The Commission also pointed out that the building would be available to Girl Scout meetings as it is today.

Lincoln Club House

....2. The council was asked to study the possibilities of selling the Peoria Scout House and Bellevue Recreation Hall. Money from this sale would be used to build a modern club house at the new Lincoln Playground.

Here, the Commission stressed that the buildings should not be sold until the new structure is erected. This move was recommended so as not to deprive the scouts from a meeting place while the new structure was being built.

3. The council was requested to clean, renovate and paint the field house at Marchbanks Park. The present building is in a state of disrepair, and needs immediate attention.

Long Discussion

This measure has been discussed for two years, but nothing has been done, for it was felt that the money would be more wisely spent building new showers and a dressing room elsewhere in the park. However, as costs now prohibit this move, the Commission recommended immediate improvements on the old building.

4. The council was requested to call for bids to erect a fence at the east end of the middle level of Marchbanks Park. Such a fence is needed to prevent dirt from the bank washing down into the park.

New Court

5. The council was requested to study the possibility of putting in a hand-ball ourt at Lincoln playground.

Elman Rose, recreation director, then reported the recreation department finished the fiscal year with a $3,006 balance.

The Director also noted that in the first six weeks of the department's summer program over 44,387 children have taken advantage of recreation facilities.

This concluded the meeting.

The Recreation Commission, whose members include: George Pingry, Ed Cavagnero, James Hines, Ed Dennis and Mrs. Ann Eason, meet the fourth Tuesday of each month. The public is invited to attend these meetings which take place at 8 o'clock at City Hall.

BUILDING CODE CHANGES SEEN

Relaxing Of Tough Regulations Asked

A revision in the uniform building code as applied to Daly City is expected within the next month or two, Dan Andersen, city administrator, announced today.

The city council met at a regular caucus meeting Monday night to discuss the revisions.

Changes will be made to allow builders to by-pass certain fire regulations which now require unnecessary building expenses.

"For example, on School Street it is necessary for every building to have a concrete wall, merely because this is a commercial zone," Andersen said. "We do not believe this is fair and plan to make revisions."

The city administrator said this did not mean a relaxing of fire regulations, but merely an "equitable" solution to a "vexing" problem.

The building code was adopted by the city council December, 1949.

WESTLAKE SCHOOL OPENING DELAYED

Colma, Garden Village Schools To Operate On Double Sessions

Westlake's new school, slated to open in September, will not be ready for children until early November, the Jefferson Elementary School Board announced this week.

Architect Mario Ciampi says the delay has resulted because of a lack of necessary steel sash.

However, Mike Callan, board chairman, said the sash was promised for August 3, and the building then should be completed within three months from time of delivery.

Double Sessions

The net result of the delay will be double sessions. Callan said for lack of room students at Garden Village School and Colma School will be on "swing shift" classes at least during the first two months of the fall term.

Vandals Wreck Colma School

Estimated at approximately $100 is the damage committed by vandals sometime over the past weekend to the new Colma Elementary school at Hillside and Market streets.

The front door windows, the window in the furnace room and a window in one of the classrooms were all broken by rocks being thrown at them with such force that even their chicken wire reenforcement did not prevent their destruction.

The damage was discovered Monday morning by Stephen Passafiume, head custodian of the Jefferson Elementary school district.

Oh, Won't You Come With Me In My Lovely Model -T- (1913)?

The pride and joy of Daly City and Bill Scott, proprietor of the Mid-City Barbershop, is the 1913 Model "T" Ford which he has recently purchased at a price purported to be $100.

In good running shape, "The Ford" was formerly owned by a man who operated it for 16 years and then stored it in his basement for 21 years because he "couldn't bear to junk it."

Model "T" Responds

"When I first got the "T," three tires were rotten and I was advised that it was junk," said Bill, "but five guys and five hours later it was running.'

Besides replacing the 30 x 3½ inch tires and buying a new pair of rods for $1, Bill reports that he has had only nominal trouble with the car.

Remarking about his new possession, Bill stated, "It's not a new fad with me, I've wanted one for years."

In a surprise move this year, he drove his Ford in a recent parade in Daly City, instead of the one-wheeled bicycle which he rode in two other parades. "The effect wasn't as startling as I expected,"

50 m.p.h. . . . Maybe

As regards the performance of his Model "T" Bill ventured, "I believe it'll do 50 miles per hour.

Last week I drove to Woodside and back."

The 22 horse-power, four cylinder Ford weighs only 1200 lbs. and uses one gallon of gas for every 20 miles. Once the engine is overhauled Bill believes that he'll get 25 miles to a gallon.

There are five items which Bill wants to get for his Model "T." He hopes to obtain a set of gas head lamps, tail lights, a switch, a Hot Spot starter-generator (it came out on the 1916 model), and an original picture of a 1913 Model "T" Roadster.

If there is someone who has any of thes items and wishes to give Bill's Model "T" new life, that party may reach Bill at his Mid-City barbershop.

Bookie Investigation Scheduled Monday

Aroused by two bookie raids here within a period of four days, the Daly City council, Monday night, will launch an investigation of bookmaking operations in this city, Councilman A. J. Gaggero said today.

The San Mateo County Grand Jury will begin an investigation of its own either this evening or Monday night, Arthur Olson, jury chairman, said.

HEAVY FINES MAY DISCOURAGE BOOKIE MIGRATION

Judge Draper Levels Stiffest Fine

Whereas the law was having a tough time keeping bookies under control in Daly City, Superior Judge Murray Draper came up with one answer to the problem this week.

Monday Judge Draper leveled a $3,500 fine against a Brisbane bookie. This was the highest fine for such an offense in the history of San Mateo County.

Example

Judge Draper said he was setting an example, and would continue to level such high fines to "discourage the influx of this type of activity" into the county.

The judge referred to "the heat" now on San Francisco bookies. Many of these Bay City gamblers are coming "south" for grener pastures and supposed safety from the crusading San Francisco authorities.

Fined was Alfred C. Marshall. He was also placed on three years probation with the warning if he was caught in any illegal activity again he would find himself behind bars.

NEIGHBOR REPORTS CHESTERFIELD FIRE

Set on fire early Thursday morning was the chesterfield set belonging to Joseph Splan, 28 Shakespeare street.

Attention to the blaze was called by Mrs. W. Tylanda, 27 Shakespeare street, who notified Daly City police of smoke coming out of the front windows of the house across the street from her.

Questions

At its Monday meeting the council will seek to determine:

1. Who, if anyone, is responsible for two bookies being tipped off to pending raids. Both bookies escaped local and county officers, although no one but those officers and San Francisco police, were aware of the pending action.

2. How a town with an alleged "clean" reputation could be the scene of bookie operations over a period of four months to two weeks.

3. Measures will be studied to keep bookie operations under control in Daly City.

Help Promised

Councilman Gaggero said District Attorney Louis Dematteis and Sheriff Earl Whitmore would be invited to the meeting.

Contacted by The Record, Dematteis said his office "would be very pleased to see such an investigation." He added: "We will help local officials in any way they desire."

Both officers from the district attorney's office and sheriff's department took part in the two raids here.

Sheriff Earl Whitmore had no comment, other than his office was continuing to investigate both of last week's raids.

Chief Questioned

Chief of Police W. W. Sunderland also is to appear before the council, Councilman Gaggero declared. It is expected he will be asked how a bookie, at 379 Irvington, could carry on operations literally under the police' noses. (The home is but 1½ blocks from the police station.)

Chief Sunderland is also expected to be questioned as to who he believes may have tipped off the bookies to the raids.

Jury Moves

Meanwhile, the county grand jury is going to make sure local officials crack down on bookies. The jury foreman today said his group will definitely discuss the matter Monday evening, and if time allows, tonight.

(The grand jury has called a special meeting tonight for the purpose of gathering evidence on a rape case in South San Francisco. Olson said if there was enough time the Daly City matter would be looked into.)

"There definitely will be a discussion of the Daly City bookmaking business when we meet Monday evening," Olson said.

Olson added that as yet no local officials have been requested to appear as witnesses before the jury Monday evening. He said this matter was entirely up to the district attorney.

Dematteis said he had no comment as to whether or not local officials will be called before the jury.

WHO HAS OLDEST CAR IN DALY CITY?

Does Bill Scott have the oldest, running car in Daly City?.

If you know of a machine older than the 1913 Model "T," let us know. We will photograph the car and give its owner a story in The Record.

This, we believe, is of utmost historical importance.

Won't you help? All it takes is a call to PL. 5-4321.

ABOUT ALL A POLICE RAIDING party found at 379 Irvington Street last week were three telephones and some bottles of whiskey. There was no sign of the bookies who had earlier operated from the Daly City home just 1½ blocks from the police station. While officers were there, they took a dozen phone bets. All the callers asked for "Emmett." Taking a bet, above, is sheriff's Inspector Paul Jensen, flanked by Inspector A. L. Lamport of the district attorney's office.

SECOND LOCAL BOOKIE ONE JUMP AHEAD OF RAID

Within Four Days Two Raids Flop Here

It was getting a trifle monotonous . . . for the second time in four days a Daly City bookie skipped town one step, and a few hours ahead of local officers.

The second unsuccesful raid came at 1:30 p.m. Friday afternoon when officers from Daly City, the sheriff's office and the district attorney's office swooped down on an empty house at 379 Irvington . . . just 1½ blocks from the police station.

Armed with a search warrant, the officers found three telephones, a portable radio, 14 empty whisky bottles, and a coffee can full of cigarette butts.

No Signs

There were no signs of one Samuel Kaufman, the alleged bookie. And police indicated today that the chances of catching up with Kaufman were mighty slim.

It looked like a repeat performance of the same show Tuesday when police found no one home in a bookie basement joint at 27 Woodrow Street.

The difference, however, was the stage management. Whereas last Tuesday officers had called the home before making the raid, Friday they went directly to the bookie's headquarters without first putting in a telephone call.

But both shows were a flop. Somehow Kaufman had got wind of the raid, although police were certain he was operating just 12 hours before they arrived.

Why, Why?

Why hadn't officers come earlier? Sheriff Inspector Paul Jensen said the raid was timed so as to catch the bookies at post time for the afternon races. That was the principal reason he hadn't staged the raid the evening before when he had gotten the tip about the operations from Inspector Marion Overstreet of the San Francisco police department.

Who had tipped the bookies off about the pending raid? Police didn't have an answer to that one.

And it appeared they had been warned, for the home was rented five months ago by Kaufmann from Moe Plansky, local building contractor. Officers suspect the bookies had been operating for at least four of the five months.

Stakes Pulled Up

That they would pull up stakes because they were "tired" of the place didn't seem very plausible. The tip-off appeared to be the only reason they weren't there to greet the officers.

Plansky had equipped the house with three phones as he earlier had planed to use the home as an office. When this fell through he rented it to Kaufman. Police say Plansky had not been in contact with Kaufmann since the time he rented the home.

With the exception of the front

Westlake Fence Discussed --- Minutes Taken Verbatim For First Time

RAILROAD GIVEN W'LAKE DECISION

Court Grants Injunction For "Belly-Band"

A railroad without even a whistle this week won a case against Henry Doelger Inc. in San Mateo County's Superior Court.

Judge Murray Draper ruled the Ocean Shore Railroad may continue to keep Doelger from using the strip of land they claim is a right-of-way running through Westlake.

Still to be decided, however, is whether the Railroad or Doelger can claim title to the land. This decision is expected later in the year.

No Whistle

In his ruling of the long standing case Judge Draper said:

"This court is well aware that for more than 30 years the whistle of the Ocean Shore Railroad has sounded only in the courtrooms, and that the road has long since employed counsel rather than engineers, and that the volume of its pleadings and briefs bids fair to exceed the total of its car loadings, even it its active period."

However, in spite of this Judge Draper ruled the railroad had a legitimate case when it said it could not operate if Doelger piled equipment and lumber on its supposed road bed.

The major item of importance at last Thursday's regular meeting of the Jefferson Elementary School Board was the question of the Westlake school fence.

Although Mrs. Helen Cheatham, board member, still objected to calling for bids on the already existent fence, indications were today that the bids would be opened August 10, and that Lyal Ingersoll would get the job. It was Ingersoll who originally put up the fence two months ago, before the board called for bids, at a cost of $2,600.

History Made

A small bit of history, too, was made at the meeting in that for the first time the entire minutes of the conclave were taken verbatim.

The Record feels a good part of these minutes will prove interesting to readers, so herein follows the discussion, word for word, on the Westlake fence:

Verbatim

(Callan) Is there any new business?

(Audience) I would like to inquire if the board has considered some other plan on the fence at the Westlake Tract. I suggest something like the top of the Alemany highway or anything to pack down the sand and be more sightly than the fence.

(Callan) The board has already advertised for new fence bids. I had frantic calls from people in the Westlake district before the

Citizens' Poll

FOG SEEMS TO BE CHIEF COMPLAINT

"What is your pet peeve in Daly City?" This is the question asked of a number of residents recently to discover if there were any gripes which the populace had in common.

Most of the answers were noncommittal or complaints and one commendation.

Two complaints were about stray dogs damaging property, one complaint involved the lack of street maintenance, another complaint was charged against the bus service, the fifth complaint was about crowded traffic conditions on San Jose avenue, and the one commendation concerned the installation of parking meters.

Mrs. Kevin Carroll, 35 Shakespear, said, "Dogs wander all over our yard and knock down the garbage can. Most of them are strays without licenses. One dog snapped at our little boy."

Mrs. Bette Penasco, 197 Los Olivos, had a complaint against children and stray dogs. "You can't have a home because of the children and dogs. Children have ruined the side of my house by writing on it, stray dogs have torn up our lawn. One of my neighbors made a complaint, but she received no response."

School Tax Bill

Property Taxes Accounts For 63% Of Funds To Support Schools Here

Major support of the public schools in San Mateo county during 1950-51 came 63 per cent from property taxes and 37 per cent from state-collected taxes, California Taxpayers' association reported today.

Property tax levy for the public schools in the county reached $8,283,713 for the year.

State apportionment amounted to $4,777,088 for the year.

Throughout the state, public school district support from property taxes in 1950-51 was 59 per cent of the $526,470,248 total of property taxes and state apportionments.

Property taxes levied for school districts in California for 1950-51 amounted to $311,486,511.

State apportionment for public schools reached an all-time high of $214,983,737 during the year.

"Local property taxpayers carry a heavy share of the cost of the public schools, even with the large amount of state support," the Taxpares' association pointed out.

"The size of the local school budget will determine the size of property taxes for schools which must be levied for 1951-52—the tax bill property owners get next November."

"Final action on public school budgets for 1951-52 must be taken by local boards of education early in August," the Taxpayers' association said, urging taxpayer participation in public hearings on school budgets, which state law requires be held during the first week of August in most districts.

"Economy early in August will pay off in November—in lower taxes on property" as association declared.

Three Bikes Stolen From Kids

Boys' and girls' bicycles continue to draw attention of the Daly City police.

That a boy's bicycle was stolen from in front of the Daly City Theatre Saturday was reported to the officers that same afternoon by Sandra K. Lyon, 86 Muirwood.

A description of the bike shows that it is blue, with black spokes in the wheels, a black rim on the front wheel and a red rim on the rear one. There is no fender on the rear wheel and one of the handle grips is missing.

Also on Saturday, Mrs. Jerrry Jones, 398 Vista Grande, reported to the local police the disappearance of a red and white, three wheeled tricycle. A few hours later the tricycle was recovered.

Mrs. Henry Shields, 849 Niantic avenue, brought to the notice of local police a girl's bicycle which had been in front of her place for the last day.

Somewhat later during last Sunday, William Regis, 768 Niantic avenue, stated that the green and white Firestone Pilot bicycle belonged to his daughter.

Jack London, born January 12, 1876, produced 48 volumes before his death at the age of 40 years.

DONATE BLOOD—Servicemen in charge of San Mateo County's Armed Forces recruitment offices came in a body to donate blood for their wounded "buddies" in Korea. Mrs. A. H. Mayer, volunteer Blood Bank receptionist, registers, left to right, Chief Walter Halfarth, Navy; Sgt. W. D. McCants, Air Force; and Sgt. E. F. Curtis, Army. Peninsula recruiting offices personnel are 100% Red Cross blood donors.

Assure A Safe Return For Men In Korea; Your Blood Is Badly Needed To Help

In responding to the Red Cross call for blood for our Korean wounded, the Peninsula recruiting offices of the Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force rate high.

Sgt. W. D. McCants, Air Force, of the San Mateo office, said: 'Sometimes people think all we fellows care about in the recruiting offices, is to get boys into the service. We want them to know we are sincerely concerned about what happens to those boys. One way we can help to insure a safe return for our wounded men overseas, is to donate blood. We're pretty proud that all peninsula offices rate 100% for donations. And our personnel gives blood, not once, but as often as possible."

The call for blood donors still goes out from the Red Cross. Need for the blood continues to be urgent. Even with peace talks going on, men are still being wounded, are lying ill in hospitals, and must have blood transfusions. Many Red Cross volunteers spend long hours every day, calling local residents by phone to solicit blood donations. Talks are made be- more clubs.

Press and radio have been more than generous in publicizing the blood program, but the response is poor. Excuses for not giving are many and varied.

The county's quota of 600 pints per month has been met only twice. Blood officials report that the bulk of donors is from organizations and industrial firms, giving as units and from donors, who give regularly every four months.

"Our fighting men are everyone's responsibility," Mrs. Henry Bostwick Jr., Blood Service chairman for the local Red Cross chapter, said. "The apathy of the general public to this need is appalling. It costs nothing to give a pint of blood and is painless. It takes only a few moments of time. The blood is given absolutely free to founded men who need it. As these recruiting officers pointed out, this is your way of sending part of yourself to the fighting front!"

Thief Pulls Fast Switch

Seldom does an individual's experience with a car thief take the complicated turn of events that Ray Garibaldi, Rt. 1, Box 441, Colma, ran into last Saturday.

To begin with, the Colma man's vehicle was stolen from a San Francisco parking lot. Then, to continue with details in chronological order which were filled in after the culprit's arrest, the thief had trouble with the battery in Garibaldi's car and coasted into the Shell Station at 2001 Junipero Serra boulevard.

He needed a new battery, but had no money. The Shell Station attendant, unaware, of course, that the car was stolen loaned the man one of the station's old cars in which to go to his home and get money for a battery.

The man returned in the company's car stating that he discovered he was fresh out of money at home and could he leave the car's spare tire and a saddle he also found in the back trunk as security for a battery? The attendant consented.

Later the thief was arrested by San Francisco police when he attempted to sell the car, ownership of which was traced back to Garibaldi. The San Francisco police contacted the Daly Citly police and asked them to handle the switching around of the traded items. Local police witnessed the transaction by which the service station got its battery returned and Garibaldi regained possession of his saddle and spare tire.

San Francisco police are holding the ingenious culprit.

DOG AND CAT HSPT. MAY BE BUILT HERE

Daly City soon may have a veterinarian hospital.

Martin A. Freeman, DVM, has requested the city allow him to put up such a hospital on Junipero Serra Boulevard just north of School Street. Dr. Freeman is from Los Gatos.

The council will consider this request and other business at a caucus meeting Monday evening.

A regular public meeting of the council will be held August 13.

Probably more lost than his lost wallet is Bill Heinzle, 60 Mateo avenue.

He is offering a reward for the return of the wallet, and sincerely hopes that whoever finds it will send it to him at his home and end the great inconveniences he has endured since losing the papers in the wallet.

MORE: School Board Discusses Westlake Fence

fence was constructed to put up a fence to stop the blowing of the sand. The board has decided that was the best way to solve the problem by putting up the fence.

Never Discussed

(Cheatham) As a board member, the problem of Westlake has never been discussed with me I can assure you. I still question the value of the fence and I question the manner in which it was handled and I feel that it was setting a very bad precedent to handle the business of the district in this manner. We have some funds in the undistributed reserve in our budget for which some type of landscaping could be put in to relieve that. On behalf of the 300 children who will attend the school and be victims of the sand. This board would be very intelligent to withdraw their bids on the fence and with the money in the undistributed reserve put in decent landscaping for Westlake.

Paint Needed

(Mrs. Ingersoll) We took a look at that fence and I don't blame the people of Westlake for complaining. It should be stained and the upper part painted to look presentable. There are papers blown up against the fence, it seems as if someone came along and threw papers there deliberately. I don't think the public has had just all the information on it. They want to know why we don't defend our side. We do owe something to our fellow being as we go along in life. What are you going to do about the contractor? You have to look at the third side. It hasn't been explained from the very beginning. There was pressure from all sides. A job had to be done and as I remember the board said something would be done about it. In the meantime you had pressure from Westlake and an emergency came up and many of us got involved in an emergency. The fellow that called was desperate and I got Mr. Ingersoll on it and he did it out of the goodness of his heart and he hurried as soon as possible. He is the lowest contractor in this area. My husband was crazy for charging so little as he did. When you put in that effort to find out what that fence was going to cost. Why didn't they say there was going to be trouble and just stop where you are. It was printed that the fence was going to cost $5,000.00 and that was not true. Don't you think that the contractor should be thought of a little more. If you had Mr. Ciampi on that job drawing up the specifications your cost would have really been high.

Board's Job

(Mrs. Cheatham) Your husband didn't have a moral responsibility to the people of Westlake. It was the responsibility of the school board.

(Mrs. Ingersoll) My husband has done most all of the school work under the same routine and it was never questioned before. And the amount spent on the Home Economics room at Thornton was far greater than this amount and there was never any question about it.

(Mrs. Cheatham) Didn't your husband get suspicious that something was wrong when asked to present his bill in parcels of $500.00?

(Callan) I think t school board was more at fault than any one. They went alon and instructed Mr. Ingersoll to present his bill in $500.00 parce

His Responsibili

(Cheatham) It was th contractors responsibility to know the laws of doing business, that is his moral and legal respon bility. I called Callan and told him he would have a lot of trouble. I called him immediately and told him he would have a lo of diffculty and he proceeded. If this school district proceeds to pay for this fence there is no reason why $27,000.00 or $40,000.00 could be spent on a good will basis of helping their fellow man and I object to it. At no time did Westlake residents ever inform us of a law suit. Their representative didn't threaten a suit at all. But two or three people undertook to solve the problem.

Other Plan

(Mr. Farber) I still would like to find out if any other plan was considered.

(Mr. Pershing) I asked for a temporary fence. I waited for 5 days and nothing was done then I phoned Mr. Ciampi again and he gave 4 formulas, $26,000 for concrete, $18,000 for lawn, $16,000 for red rock and the $4,000 for oil. After that Sunday, we had a very bad storm and the next thing the fence was put up.

All Wrong

(Cheatham) The manner in which it was handled was entirely wrong. If you are going to have public servants who flaunt the law or disregard it or loop hole it. If you are wrong you are wrong and I think this has become a face saving device. I would like to recommend that the board allow Mr. Ingersoll to remove the fence and that some other method be used. I was told that we have $23,500 extra in our budget and I suggest that we use this money to landscape Westlake.

More Important

(Callan) We will have a little more money and we need it for a little more important things than landscaping Westlake right now. There is nothing at Colma right now either. It is true in Westlake you have sand but we have done the best that we know how and I think that that is all we can do.

(Mrs. Cheatham) I think the board has done a miserable job with Westlake.

(Callan) When we finished with Westlake we hope to grow lawn and a hedge, but a fence will be needed until that hedge is grown.

(Mr. Charles Beckerman) There is the Garden Village school and in the interest of the children if there are plans for landscaping, there should be plans for that school too. I suggested to Mr. Snell that it would be well to get some parents interested in helping out with the landscaping.

Addition

(Callan) The board is going to add to this building and therefore have not taken care of the play yard. The errosion should be taken care of and the top be taken off by a bulldozer to remove the errosion and make a safe playground for the children. We intend to build a multi-purpose room and some other things. We should have all of these areas taken care of but we have not that much money.

(Mr. Beckerman) If you will tell us when the PTA meets again and where this wing is going to be I think we can plant some ice plant or lawn there in order to help the children.

(Audience) At Aptos the lawns have no sprinkler system and they run right down to the sidewalks. You might get some help from the Golden Gate Authorities.

Realization

(Callan) Do you realize there re 7 acres and 13 acres in Colma nd we will have to hire a Gar- ener to attend to this. The area too wide and the dirt will chop ou down.

(Mrs. Falconer) Will the state low you to do these things, on hool property?

(Mr. Farber) The fence doesn't rve the purpose because there is nd on the other side of the fence hat blows. I think some other lan could have been adopted which could have served the purpose.

(Mrs. Cheatham) Have you ever thought of the 300 children inhaling that sand?

(Callan) Any fence is not going to last a litetime. It will last long enough to grow a good hedge and then will come down.

What Reason

(Audience) What is the objective? Did I understand that one fence is going to be torn down and another built in it's place?

(Callan) I, as a taxpayer, I, as an individual in this area am legally liable as a person and I am not going to loose my money by a suit being brought against me by the Westlake residents. I was in a home with a child not more than six months old with the sand thick on the child's crib.

(Cheatham) We never had a threat of a suit from Westlake and the State Code states that one member of the board is not responsible for the school district. Callan's fortune is not in danger from the sand in Westlake and never has been.

(Cheatham) Mr. Van der Werff says I like Ingersoll and I don't want him to loose his money. I think Ingersoll is a swell fellow, he shouldn't have to take the loss but the people shouldn't have to pay it.

(Cheatham) Mr. Bosberry, do you personally want the fence in Westlake?

(Mr. Bosberry) No I don't want the fence, no not as a permanent fixture.

(Audience) I object to the fence. I live right across the street from it. As a temporary structure yes. It keeps the sand out of the houses and driveways. Whether or not we like the fence is beside the point. All during the summer it has done a wonderful job. The sand has about stopped now. My objection is I have a couple of children and any time you have children and a fence around it is an unhealthy condition.

Motion Made

(Cheatham) I would like to make a motion that we start on the landscaping of Westlake school and give the contractor permission to come in and remove the fence—No second to the motion.

(Van der Werff) I would like to make a motion that we inform Mr. Passifiume to get in touch with the Broadmoor police chief and if they have a meeting place to leave the keys and not meet there any more.

(Callan) Is there a second.

(Cheatham) I don't think that needs to be board action.

(Audience) I would like to ask Mr. Van der Werff's opinion of the landscaping of Westlake School.

(Van der Werff) I think it should be landscaped if we could get the money to landscape it, yes. I couldn't answer whether the funds are available. We are awful short of money, I know that. We are knocking the budget around trying to get teacher's salaries.

(Cheatham) Our budget was set up to cover those items and we also discovered that we have $34,000.00 additional and I feel we are not so bound.

(Audience) Do you agree that it should be taken care of Mr. Van der Werff if the money is available?

(Van de Werff) Colman should be taken care of first because there is youngsters there and Garden Village too. I am in favor of nice playgrounds.

(Mrs. Ingersoll) Why can't the board accept the fence and leave it there?

(Callan) The board has. You can't spend all the money in one district. The only realy that this problem hasn't arisen at Colma is that we have weeds there.

Brunswick, said, "The street in front of my house is not very good. It's broken and up and should be repaired."

Mrs. William Lewis, 309 Miriam, said, "I don't like the bus service. It's a nuisance when you take a bus downtown to San Francisco and have to transfer, especially with children or during the winter. The "40" line was much better."

Mrs. Victor De Bello, 62 Wilson, said, "I work during the day and I have a terrible time trying to cross San Jose avenue on my way home at 5 p.m. It's too crowded; sometimes I have to wait ten minutes to cross the street or walk up to the top of the hill to cross over."

Mrs. Henry Willers, 40 Willits, thought the city should be commended. "I think it's a big improvement with the parking meters on top of the hill," she said. "It gives me a chance to shop once in awhile."

Among those people who thought Daly City received more than its share of fog were Mrs. O. G. Coker, 362 Irvington; Mrs. Robert Linda, 232 Peoria street; Mr. Kenneth W. Ryan, 323 Whittier; and Mrs. John A. Forde, 1136 Hanover.

room, which overlooks Irvington Street, the house was empty. In the front room were the phones, a card table and a portable radio.

As officers searched the home sheriff's Inspector Paul Jensen took several bets over the phone. All asked for Emmett.

Sheriff Earl Whitmore, who promised to invade individual bailiwicks harboring bookies, said he would continue the investigation of both bookie raids.

District Attorney Louis Dematteis made the same promise.

However, neither of the officials would comment on whether they were trying harder to find the bookies, or the means by which they were tipped off to the raids.

Marines Expected To Survive Wreck

Expected to survive are the two marines from Treasure Island who sustained critical injuries when their 1949 club coupe smashed full force into a pedestrian pole at Bepler and San Jose streets, early last Sunday morning.

Latest reports from the United States Naval hospital in Oakland where they were removed from the Junipero Serra hospital indicate that even the more seriously injured of the two is holding his own while his companion is doing "nicely."

The more critically injured of the two is Robert A. White, 20, who received a back injury with a possible fracture of the spine and concussion of the brain.

The other occupant of the car, John H. Oldfield, 32, sustained lacerations of the face and scalp, a fractured left arm, and abrasions of the left knee.

Proceeding at a high rate of speed the marine's car jumped the traffic island at Los Banos and straddled the island to Hillcrest drive, swerving to the west and striking the curb. This caused the left front hub cab to fly through the plate glass window of Gelsi's Tavern setting off the burglar alarm.

The car then continued north on Mission until it struck the pedestrian crossing signal at Bepler and Mission streets. The impact with which it struck the signal caused it to become so firmly lodged around the pole that it was necessary to call in the services of an engineer from the Broadway Tunnel in Oakland to supervise the removal of the car to protect the wires into the signal box. The car was removed to Lombardi's garage.

Cause of the accident is unknown because both men are in such serious condition that as yet they haven't been able to answer questions. Neither is it possible to determine which of the two was driving.

Westlake Voters Urged To Register

Citizens of Westlake are urged by Mrs. Edward Marliave, Deputy Voting Registrar, to register early to secure their voting privilege for the city elections in April and the national elections in November, 1952.

Many former San Francisco residents moving to Westlake were disappointed to find they were not eligible to vote last year without re-registering as residents of San Mateo county.

An early registration will alleviate the conjestion caused last year by a last-minute rush to register. Many people lost their vote because of tardy registration.

Those persons who wish to register may contact Mrs. Marliave at her home, 165 Westdale avenue, or telephone for an appointment at PL. 5-0511.

"It's to the interest of everyone to register," Mrs. Marliave declared. "Everyone should have a voice in the way their government is run, especially in local governmental affairs which are so often neglected."

Burglars Clean Out Stables

Valued at a total of approximately $2,000 were the saddles, bridles, blankets and other riding equipment stolen from the Skyline Stables at Skyline and Ocean Shore boulevards, sometime last Friday night.

Edward Farris, 1230 46th avenue, notified Daly City police of the crime.

It is thought that the burglary was made possible by the theft of the key to the stables sometime during the afternoon.

That the stolen merchandise has a wide range of values is shown in the detailed listing of the burglarized items. One saddle alone is valued at several hundred dollars while on the other hand, one of the blankets only runs into a few dollars in value.

Police Answer Call For Local Doctor

Need of a doctor for Vickie Schroeder, 13, of 41 Garwood drive, Tuesday, called the Daly City Police department into action.

Mrs. Schroeder called them to state that Vickie had injured her foot. An officer took the girl to the Junipero Serra hospital for treatment.

THE RECORD VIEWS ONE MAN'S OPINIONS

Last week H. H. Smith, Daly City's ex-mayor, took a roundhouse verbal swing at the city council in this paper.

It was done in a "Letter To The Editor." We printed his letter in the belief that any man who has the courage to speak should be heard.

The Record will continue to print any non-libelous communications from interested readers. We do this, albeit we don't always agree with the writer, for we feel a newspaper must print both sides of any question, or fold up and silently sneak away into oblivion.

We don't question, therefore, Smith's right to speak his mind; but we do take issue with his principal conclusion.

He seems to believe that because of the present "attitude" of the council it is foolish to attend a council meeting. The same thing applies to school board meetings.

There is no questioning the sincerity of his opinion. . . . over the past two years we have seen Smith exactly three time at a city council meeting.

This appears to be about the same "batting average" for the other 15,000 citizens of this fair community.

Everyone, including Smith, is free to censure the government, but how many take the time to actually try to better matters

We should think that Smith, with his years of experience, wouldn't let a small thing like the council's attitude keep him away from the meetings.

We certainly don't agree our city officials are unreasonable—but if they were, it seems like a mighty weak excuse for not attending vital conclaves.

No, Smith's letter meant little to us because it smacked more of a man sulking in a corner than a man who will come out with some constructive ideas as to how to attract more public interest in the vital council meetings.

It is certainly not difficult to raise objections against another man's ability, but to produce a better in its place is extremely troublesome.

We believe Smith, and those of his opinions, should take a little more time to be constructive rather than pounding away on past history.

And the first step in that direction is attendance at public meetings.

We'll be waiting to see you at the next council meeting, Mr. Smith . . . as well as all the others who use the bad excuse of the council's "attitude" to stay home Monday evenings.

ONLY YOU CAN ADJUST THAT DIRTY SLIP

Until last week Daly City officials were saying with a straight face that this was a "clean town."

Then, within four days, the town's dirty slip began to show, and two bookies skipped town just ahead of cops.

This week the same city officials were promising an investigation, but no one seemed quite certain what to investigate.

A few irrate citizens questioned how both bookies could have slipped through the fingers of local and county gendarmes.

Some residents were blaming the city for failing to exact a more direct control over bookie activities.

All in all it wasn't much more than just talk.

What was the solution to bookies?

Judge Murray Draper came up with one answer this week when he slapped a $3,500 fine on a bookie. This was expected to discourage further migration from San Francisco "south." (The usual fines run no more than $400 or $500.)

But in Daly City's own yard, what was to be done?

We think the answer can be found not at the doors of city hall, but rather over the back fences. It is over these same fences that a neighbor or a friend will slam city officials for allowing bookies, but at the same time not hesitate to tell you where a betting establishment can be found.

Not a week passes that some reader doesn't drop a not too sly hint that he knows of bookie operations in the town. Most of these dear readers are kidding themselves, but a few know of what they speak.

It all boils down to placing a bet with the right hand, and chastising the city with the other for allowing the right hand to break the law.

We are of the opinion that if the people actually wanted bookies out of town they could do it in a matter of days. All it would take would be a report to The Record, or a city councilman.

We are also of the opinion that the majority of city officials while fooling no one that this is a clean town . . . and what town is? . . . are honestly trying to keep crime under control.

However, they need your help.

Are you going to give that aid? If not, we would suggest you lay the blame for bookie operations at your own feet . . . and be careful you may break your toes.

THE SCHOOL BOARD NEEDS "BALLAST"

It was apparent to anyone who attended the last regular meeting of the Jefferson Elementary School Board . . . the Board members just don't get along.

A little healthy disagreement is a fine thing, but when two men and a woman can't see eye to eye on such trifling business of whether or not to take minutes verbatim, it's time for a change.

We don't believe an election will make that change. There have been many elections over the past years, but the board continues to do battle.

No, it's going to take a special act of the state legislature. This act will set up a five man instead of the present three man board.

As brought out at the meeting, the district is presently too small to support a five man board. Consequently, according to law, two additional members can be voted into office only upon the recommendations of the legislature.

We believe such a recommendation is in order . . . at least if anything resembling peace is ever to settle over the school board.

Under the present set up one member can successfully block the other two from any action . . . or at least that was the outcome of one motion before the board last Thursday evening.

But that is not the important point. The thing to remember is that the board is duly elected to serve the children of this community. How can a board which too often acts like the children they are to supervise successfully carry out its duties?

The loss of two superintendents, Richard Crane and James Snell, seems to testify to the weakness of the present three man organization. It is no secret that both men resigned because of the split in school board policy. The district also lost many valuable teachers.

We would further suggest that the board members, or one of them, take this matter to heart and request the legislature set up the five man board.

It is about time the board called a halt to meetings which have rapidly become little better than bitter, personal battles instead of meetings where the children will be considered. And as far as we can see, the only time this will happen will be when two additional members are added for intelligent "ballast."

LET'S TAKE THE TEETH OUT OF THE DEATH TRAP

One of the more obvious death traps for children in Daly City is Hillside Boulevard traffic.

While there is supposed to be speed limit on this vital street, most motorists regard the stretch of highway as a freeway.

At the suggestion of three citizens who attended a recent council meeting we spent a half hour the other day on Hillside Boulevard. During that time we spotted one car doing less than 35 miles per hour. The other motorists were hitting all the way from 45, to one fool who must have had the gas pedal down to the floor.

What is to be done to remedy this situation?

We would suggest more stop signs.

We would suggest local police spend more time patrolling this area, especially during the rush hours of the morning and night.

We would suggest that residents of the area set an example by obeying the speed limit. One motorist we observed, who was doing at least 50 miles per hour, ended his trip in front of what must have been his home on Hillside Boulevard.

Of course, it is one thing to suggest, and another matter to do something. Hillside Boulevard is a state highway, and consequently the city can't just go out and put up stop signs at will. However, the city can request that the state allow such signs. This should be done immediately.

As to police control, now that the signals on "top of the hill" are installed there should be more officers free to patrol sections of Hillside Boulevard.

But what is needed more than anything else is interest by those citizens in the area. It is up to them to press these measures.

Locked Out? Call A Cop

Among the many services of the Daly City police department to the public is that of helping persons who lock themselves out of their own homes gain entrance into same.

Mrs. W. K. Spencer, 351 Rhine street, availed herself of this service during the small hours of last Saturday night. When she found that she was without a key to her own place, she contacted the police who helped her gain entrance into her home. Other means failing, they, with her permission, had to break a window, to achieve this purpose.

Alleged Drunk Driver Arrested

With his bail set at $125 cash or a $250 bond Eldon Frank Keihl, 137 Twentieth avenue, San Francisco, was arrested by Daly City police Wednesday on a charge of driving a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Keihl first attracted police attention at Vale and Mission sts. when his light green coupe going north on Mission made a U turn at Vale and then started south on Mission, driving through two lanes of traffic.

He was stopped by an officer at El Camino Real and booked at the local station.

Two Soldiers Back From Korea

Two local men recently have returned to their homes from Korea.

Technical Sgt. Olan McKaskle, 158 E. Vista avenue. He was one of 1,330 leather necks who arrived in San Francisco Monday aboard the Transport USS Mountrail. Sgt. McKaskle is the husband of Mrs. Marion McKaskle, Daly City Water Department clerk.

Lt. William F. Sowl, 697 MacArthur Drive, Broadmoor. He arrived in San Francisco Monday aboard the USS Sergeant Woodford.

Roberts, Oh, Roberts, What Say You To This Board Question?

As noted elsewhere in The Record, for the first time in its history last Thursday evening the Jefferson Elementary School Board took its minutes verbatim.

How this came to pass should be of interest to anyone who has ever attended a board meeting, or has studied Roberts' Rules of Order.

Following is the transcription of the board's discussion of the vexing problem:

(Mr. Cheatham) There was a motion made to take the reading of the minutes verbatim and where are those minutes.

(Callan) That was for all the business of the meeting to be taken verbatim not the discussions and arguments.

Should Stand

(Mr. Cheatham) You still had a motion that was passed to have the reading of the minutes verbatim and that's the way it should stand.

(Audience) Would it be possible to incorporate the things and put it into the minutes. There is no way of deciding what is important and what isn't.

(Cheatham) I think the public should know what the Board members have to say to each other. I myself have nothing to hide and feel that the public should get every piece of the information that goes on at these meetings. The answer to each problem.

(Callan) I believe verbatim is fine for the business end of it for the things that are necessary and the things that are very important that everything verbatim would be pertaining to the busines and not the discussions.

(Cheatham) The motion stands, unless you rescind it that the minutes be taken verbatim.

(Callan) The only things that should be in the minutes should be the things that are board busines and not family discussions.

Motion Requested

(Callan) I would like to hear a motion from the board in regard to the rescinding of the motion made July 10 with reference to taking the minutes verbatim.

(Mr. Emmit Malone) This is the first school board meeting that I have attended and I noticed that as you read along from one minutes to the other they did not tie in together. In other words some questions were left unanswered and you didn't refer back to them at the next meeting. Many questions are brought up and never answered not even at the following meeting.

(Callan) That is very true. That means everything you said were to go into the minutes. How many of the same type of people would be discussing this matter.

(Cheatham) What's the matter with his type of people. That's exactly what is being brought up at this point.

(Callan) But what I am getting at is that the important point should be adequately covered so that the minutes make sense when you read them. Not just our discussions and arguments but the important things.

Solution

(Mr. Weibel) The solution that the Los Angeles City Schools reached in regard to this problem was to have a micraphone in front of each board member with a tape recording. Or there is one other solution, that the Trustees make a motion that the important things be improvised into the minutes.

(Cheatham) I am not ashamed of what I say, and I resent it when the meaty and important discussions are not complete in the minutes. I think it is very important for the people to know all that is going on at the meetings.

(Callan) I am still waiting for a motion from the board that only the business part of the meeting be taken verbatim.

(Audience) I think that if we take everything important verbatim & let the secretary decide which is the important part.

(Mrs. Landess) I would not take that responsibility upon my shoulders. I think the only solution to this matter is a recording machine.

Mouths Open

(Callan) Many nights the board was here until 12:00 o'clock. It would take four hours to read over the minutes verbatim of those meetings. The trouble is we don't sit here and keep our mouths shut.

(Mrs. Ingersoll) I think the person or any persons that would consider such a step (taking the minutes verbatim) if they would realize what they are asking the secretary to do, they would reconsider. That girl couldn't possibly get all of this discussion. Even a court reporter couldn't get it all. I believe that it is proper for the business end of it to be taken verbatim. And I think that it is very much out of order to expect such a thing.

Question

(Callan) There is a question before the board to decide upon rescinding the motion passed July 10 in regards to taking the minutes verbatim.

(Mr. Van der Werff) I make a motion to rescind the verbal writing of the minutes.

(Mrs. Cheatham) I ask for a verbatim record of the meetings and we are swinging back to the closed door policy. We are not going to do it the Jefferson School board way, but the Callan simplified way, here and now.

(Mr. Van der Werff) I believe in keeping with the ruling that everything important should go into the minutes. I don't think the discussions should go into these minutes, it just isn't possible.

(Mrs. Cheatham) Well Mrs. Landess has been doing a good job of it so far.

(Callan) Well, it was your husband who brought up the point that they weren't verbatim.

(Mr. Beckerman) I have been waiting for someone to rise to the defense of Mr. Callan and say it is not entirely fair at this point to suggest that Mr. Callan is trying to close the meeting to the public. It seems that each individual point of view is trying to be protected but that remains to be seen.

Public Needed

(Mrs. Cheatham) The public should participate and know what is going on and know the operation of the board. The school business should be run according to the State Code from a public viewpoint and from a level viewpoint. I feel that it is the electors who should influence the school board.

(Callan) We have taken up now almost ½ hour on the subject which is very unnecessary and it will not help the school district and the area. As chairman of the board I am requesting that a motion be made—

(Van der Werff) I made a motion to the effect that there will be no verbal taking of the minutes. It would be everything pertaining to the business of the board and anyone requesting a reading may make this request.

(Callan) I would like to hear a motion rescinding the motion of July 10 in regards to verbal taking of the minutes. —no second.

Poll of votes—Callan, Van der Werff, yes

No Motion

(Cheatham) You can't take a poll of votes when you have no motion. You have no motion when you do not have a second.

(Callan) You can't expect Mrs. Landess to take down everything. A court reporter would have to be employed.

(Cheatham) It is not possible to poll the vote if there is no second. I stand on a point of order right there.

(Cheatham) We are going to do the thing the right way, and there is no motion and I move that we continue with the business on hand. There is no motion.

(Callan) Then I will step out of my chair and second the motion.

(Audience) I think you can with the consent of the rest of the board step out of the chair.

(Beckerman) You would find the verbal technique would not work.

(Cheatham) I believe it could be worked out, perhaps the tape recorder could be used at our meetings. Miss Belli, don't we have a recorder available?

(Miss Belli) Yes we have one Mrs. Cheatham but you can't depend upon it. I was going to suggest getting a new one eventually, but we do have one and we also have a disc recorder which might work.

Tape Recorder

(Mrs. Cheatham) I think if we had a tape recorder it might be fixed and be suitable for the board.

(Callan) Is there anyone who knows how we can get around this motion? Suppose one member was absent then I could second the motion made by Mr. Van der Werf. There must be a way to go about this.

(Mr. Weibel) The majority rules, and in this case a majority is two. There are three on the board and a majority is two and if it is any other way you are saying that every motion must be passed by a unanimous vote. I am not an authority, but that is the interpretation I would give it.

(Callan) This item is not terrifically important so let's table it.

(Van der Werff) I make a motion that we hold it over until our next regular meeting and go on with the rest of the business.

The Record welcomes any letter on any event of public or private interest. These letters are published at no expense to the writer. There are just two requirements: the letters must be signed, and must be within the laws of libel. We hope readers will show enough interest in their city to occasionally "sound off;" for the purpose of this column is to give you, the reader, a chance to express an opinion.

Councilman Ed Mooney Discusses Current Problems In Transportation

Dear Editor:

This is a little late, but I was on vacation. However, here is a resume of my thought on transportation and traffic.

On our peninsula and the Bay area, in general, transportation has become a gigantic snarl of confusion and a hazard to safety.

Millions of dollars are spent every year on surveys, construction of freeways and widening of streets—yet, the problem remains unsolved. We seem to be palliating the effects and ignoring the causes.

Statistics show that the thousands of cars on our streets and highways carry 1.8 passengers which, considering the cost of car operation, is very expensive transportation.

A greater proportion of these cars that carry people from their homes to their work would be in garages if adequate transportation was available.

The less fortunate are forced to use the gasoline buses which, when loaded, are stifling and uncomfortable. They block intersections and hold up traffic. They are a menace to health and tax the nerves of our citizens.

There is no substitute for rail transportation. Proper interurban trains and adequate shuttle service appears to be the only answer to this problem. It would reduce the terrific death toll and property distruction that occurs on our highways.

Many, perhaps, feel that going back to rails is retrogression, but it is not. Modern rail equipment is far less costly to operate and to keep in repair than the old, heavy rail equipment of the past.

It furnishes comfort in traveling, the result of which would sweeten the disposition of many and gladden the hearts of all who are victims of this era of confusion.

The only hinderance to a proposition of this nature is profit. Private enterprise would ignore it. And if they do, I'm sure it wouldn't be un-American to consider tri-county or state ownership and operation.

We boast to the world of our way of life, but this transportation mess is a disgrace.

Respectfully,
E. J. Mooney

From A Corner

By Bill Katz

The other night we "joined" the army again, and it was about as unpleasant as the first day we put on a uniform.

Actually we didn't "re-up," but we did devote several hours to scanning a popular best seller, Jones' "From Here To Eternity." Regarless of whether you go in for novels, this is one almost everyone is familiar with principally because the word got around that Jones used a variety of anglo-saxon terms to describe army life. Life magazine devoted quite an article to Jones, and the reviewers have had a time determining whether Jones is downright vulgar or simply a realist recording for all time the conversations of soldiers.

Two Sides

We're inclined to side with both views. Jones could have left out some of those words and still given the lavmen a good idea of the army, but on the other hand there is no denying the lads do talk like that.

But four lettered words aren't peculiar to the army, as anyone can tell you who's put in a day with longshoremen or the railroad's rip track. No, those marvelously descriptive adjectives can be found where men gather to speak in simple, direct language.

The thing women readers won't understand about the book is that their husbands and sons slung around the same words with the freedom they now use "heck," "gee," or a variety of less grating hyperbolas. Of course, that hubby may be an exception, especially as applied to some of Jones' more fanciful flights into the use of swearing.

No Purpose

The thing to remember is that in the army men used Jones' special kind of vocabulary for no other purpose than to be understood. The actual definition of the words was lost, and with few exceptions rarely thought of.

As for that never to be mentioned word "sex," Jones had quite a time of it in his book. Most of it rang about as false as his vocabulary rang true. In the tight clinches it would appear Jones was borrowing most of what he knew from exaggerated conversations (army men, as most men, are great for this) and bum movies.

All and all, though, we think the author "caught the army," at regulars. We make this reservation, because today's army is much different than the one where you signed up for a quiet tour of duty. Today, the army is made up of citizens, not soldiers. Today, the army fights wars, not fatigue duty.

Last Book

As a mater of fact Jones may have written a book about a dead institution. No longer is there such a thing as a "regular" army, and men who enlist simply because there's nothing better to do at home.

But in spite of all that, we think you're wasting valuable time reading the novel, for while nasty language, illicit love and brutality may spell out the army way, it doesn't make pleasant reading. And the only excuse we can find for a book that isn't pleasant, is that it be educational or widen a viewpoint. Jones, to us, is far from educational.

However, for those with different ideas, "From Here To Eternity" can now be found at your Daly City Library . . . that is, if you can stand waiting. Seems there's a long list of readers who want to find out what it's all about . . . yes, over 50 per cent of them are women.

Why Change Name Of "Daly City"?

Strong Has Strong Reasons

Through a series of form letters W. F. Strong, 147 Bellevue Avenue, has recently been urging local citizens to change the name of Daly City to Vista Grande.

Although the movement still has to gain popular support, this in no way seems to be bothering Strong.

Answering many queries, The Record this week called on Strong to discover his motives in changing the name of our city.

Wesley F. Strong's grandfather was the second resident to settle in Daly City in 1880. Mr. Wesley Strong lives in the same house, overlooking Daly City on Bellevue avenue, in which his grandfather lived 70 years ago.

10-Year Delay

"About ten years ago we thought it would be appropriate to restore the name back to Vista Grande, but the war interrupted our plans, said Mr. Strong.

"About a month ago we decided to start again," stated Mr. Strong, who has been called back to active duty in the navy recently, "and once more two of our committee members were called into the service."

Disassociation

As an explanation of his campaign, Mr. Strong said that in the days after the earthquake and fire, many respected residents refused to be associated with the name Daly City because of the "riffraff" which drifted into this locality.

"Daly City had a bad psychological affect on people. They were ashamed to say they lived here. Many people said they were from the Crocker Tract rather than Daly City," Mr. Strong explained.

Part of Spanish Tradition

Vista Grande is part of the old Spanish tradition upon which California's history is based. "I think we're doing harm by changing the old names and traditions," Mr. Strong responded.

As a preliminary move, Mr. Strong and his restoration group place the name Vista Grande in parenthesis beside Daly City on their correspondence. Before doing this Mr. Strong requested and received the permission of San Francisco Postmaster John Fixa.

According to Mr. Strong, the name Vista Grande is still found in post office records and on Rand McNally maps. Vestiges of the old Spanish name which means "Grand View" appeared on the Vista Grande Grammar school here until it was torn down in 1935.

Attract More People

"I think we might attract more people to our city if the name was more pleasing," stated Mr. Strong.

Within the next year Mr. Strong and his group plan to send out 200 letters a week and 1000 printed post cards to San Francisco real estate firms "to get this restoration movement into the public's mind."

Unable to foretell the outcome of this venture, Mr. Strong pointed out that he will not know what support upon which he can depend until his publicity program reached its peak.

Slippery Jack Foils Tire Thieves' Work

Slipping of a car off a jack discouraged thieves into limiting their stripping of an automobile to one wheel.

Robert Martin, 498 N. Parkview, notified Daly City police that the left front wheel of his car had been stolen last Friday as the car was parked in front of his place. The failure of the jack prevented the left rear wheel from being stolen also.

Stolen One Day—Found The Next

Red and white is the color of the bicycle belonging to Ricardo Colorado, 12, of 342 Miriam street, which was stolen and found inside of two days.

Monday Ricardo came into the Daly City police station and reported the bike stolen. Tuesday, he informed the local constabulary that the bike had been found in a parking lot behind the Westlake Motel.

Neighbor Prompts Firemen's Work

Seeing a fire in the house next door Monday, Mrs. E. Nelson, 83 Shakespeare street, notified the Daly City police, who contacted the Fire department.

Fire Chief Kennedy and Company No. 2 responded to find a pile of rubbish burning in the basement of the residence in question. The blaze was extinguished, with minor damage.

by H. C. MacArthur, C.N.S.

August 2. (CNS)—Biggest state deal of the week involved the authorization of $8,350,000 in revenue bonds by the state toll bridge authority to acquire the San Mateo-Hayward and Dumbarton toll bridges, over the southern portion of San Francisco Bay.

In authorizing the bonds, the authority said the tolls would be reduced to a flat 35 cents per car by mid-September, when the bridges actually will be acquired by the state.

EXECUTIVE

The governor cleaned up the 1,896 bills sents to him by the 1951 legislature, signing and chaptering 1,765; vetoing 42 during the legislative session, and pocket-vetoing 89 more after the seession ended June 23.

In his action on the bills, the governor said he believes "there are too many laws," but nevertheless stated his policy is to sign all the bills sent to him that "injure no one," contending that the legislature sets the policies of the state; that California is growing and is progressive, hence the need for revision and development of its laws.

After completing his work on the bills, the governor left for San Francisco and Sonoma counties, and planned to go south the first part of the week. He reappointed Dwight Murphy, Santa Barbara, as a member of the California Horse Racing Board for a new term ending July 26, 1955.

LEGISLATIVE

Although legislative activity for the summer is practically nil, the new offices for senators and assemblymen are attracting some legislators to Sacramento, where plans are being laid for the operation of interim committees.

Assembly interim committees were named last week, with one of the major changes in the list being the transfer of Assemblyman Randal Dickey, Alameda county, former chairman of rules, to the chairmanship of the committee on Conservation, Planning and Public Works.

Other than this change, the assembly committees are virtually the same as far as chairmanships go, as they were during the 1949 interim.

Surprise Party Given Last Sunday To Mark Mrs. Wendin's 80th Birthday

Honored at a surprise birthday party last Sunday was Mrs. Ameilia Wendin, 119 Winchester Street, grandmother of Allen E. Hertel, chief clerk of the Daly City Water Department.

Mrs. Wendin celebrated her 80th birthday. And to prove that years can sometimes be deceptive, Mrs. Wendin is still working an eight hour day with a San Francisco firm and has only a few grey hairs to show her age.

A resident of Daly City for the past 26 years, Mrs. Wendin is a native of Morgan Hill, California. The party was held at that location to honor Mrs. Wendin.

An interesting sidelight of the day's celebration was a trip by Mrs. Wendin and relatives to Sveadal, a community near Morgan Hill. Here, many years ago, was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Wendin's parents.

It was this same property that was dedicated to the Swedish Society exactly 25 years ago. The Prince and Princess of Sweden took part in the ceremonies.

Also, at this site Mrs. Elmer M. Hertel, was born.

Guests and relatives who helped Mrs. Wendin to enjoy her birthday included:

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Edwards, San Francisco; Frank Wendin, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Ivar Wendin, San Bruno; Mrs. Ellen Wentzel, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Gramcko, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Betts, San Bruno; Mrs. Elmer M. Hertel, Daly City; Allen E. Hertel, Daly City; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Berg, San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sayers and children, Fred, Billie Sue and Thomas, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. William Ventura, San Francisco; Mrs. Frank Ventura, Jr., San Bruno; Mrs. Frenk Ventura, Redwood City.

Brentwood Bowl Plans Opening

Rough sanding of the approaches to the 16 lanes in the Brentwood Bowl was completed Tuesday and workmen are now putting the finishing touches to detail work throughout the huge South San Francisco recreation center nearing completion on El Camino Real in the Brentwood Section.

President Carl N. Hiller reports that the Brentwood Bowl will open shortly after the middle of August. No definite date has been set for the Grand Opening but it is hoped to have this event shortly after August 15th, Hiller said.

The alleys have all been sanded and pin-setting machines have already been installed.

Many of San Mateo county's leading bowling teams will make the Brentwood Bowl their headquarters this year.

Women Of Moose Welcome Members

Seven new candidates were initiated at the recent meeting of the Women of the Moose, San Francisco Chapter No. 739. A baner was presented to the chapter by the marching unit chairman, Betty Lavangino.

The meeting was concluded with the serving of refreshments by the officers.

A large delegation from the San Francisco chapter will attend the state convention of the organization at Santa Cruz from August 1 to 3. Deputy Grand Regent Gladys Sisco will be in charge.

The San Francisco chapter which holds top honors of the state, will take over the initiation exercises. Also the marching unit of the local chapter will compete against several other units of the Moose auxiliaries of the state.

WOMEN OF MOOSE HONOR GRAND REGENT

Women of the Moose, Chapter No. 739, recently attended dinner in Oakland in honor of Deputy Grand Regent Gladys Sisco, who is also recorder of the local San Francisco Chapter.

Police received the call that the fire department was needed and when that group responded to the Winchester home they discovered the chimney on fire. They extinguished the blaze.

Irish Pictures Coming Wednesday To K.R.B. Hall

The true and authentic story of Ireland's struggle for fredom during the period from 1916 to 1921 will be revealed in the unequaled Irish picture "Dawn Over Ireland," coming to the K.R.B. Hall, 1133 Mission Street on Wednesday and Thursday nights, August 8 and 9.

Here is a picture with a background of natural Irish scenic beauty, in which all the actors play the similar role before the camera that they performed in real life as soldiers of the Irish Republican Army during the exciting and hectic days of the guerrilla warfare against the invader.

How romance can find its way even into the midst of a group of patriots, hardened by the rigors of a guerilla campaign, is absorbingly woven into the picture and story by the producers, while suspicion lurks in the minds of cautious Volunteers when the enemy unwittingly anticipates their intentions on more than one occasion by escaping the ambuscades laid for them during their raids on the countryside. Is there a leak someplace? What a relief when the suspect turns out to be the real hero of the column! Yet how triumphant when he dies in action for THE CAUSE OF IRELAND. This is a picture that will appeal intensely to an Irish audience.

Another highly interesting picture entitled "Belfast Remembers" will be shown as a companion feature, showing how the Republicans of Belfast, in conjunction with their fellow-countrymen all over Ireland, revere the memory of the United Irishmen who rose against foreign rule in 1798, when they celebrated the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of that event.

The program will commence at o'clock according to the Knights of the Red Branch who are sponsoring the affair.

There were 35 members of the local club present and 10 members of the Coastside club at the meeting.

Children Prove Good Collectors

Children of the Broadmoor Community Center, under the direction of recreation leader John Cowley, collected $136.26 for the Cerebral Palsy drive last Saturday.

The collection was a spontaneous gesture on the part of Mr. Cowley while the 21 hour television program was in progress. Approximately 20 children gathered these donations and journeyed to the television program to present them to the proper authorities.

Mr. Cowley is in charge of Broadmoor Community Center which is sponsored by the Broadmoor Property Owners Assn.

DEAR PARENTS

By Jane Keith

It has been brought to my attention that many readers would like to have a new heading for this column.

"Dear Parents," they say, "is fine so long as the articles are about children, but sometimes they are definitely NOT about children. Why not call your column "Soup to Nuts," "The Melting Pot"—something not quite so specific as "Dear Parents?"

Naturally, since I write to be read—I would like some more reader opinion on the matter. My own feelings coincide with those of William Shakespeare who said, "A rose by any other name will smell as sweet," or even that very colloquial saying which goes, "No matter how thin you slice it—it's still boloney." My prime interests are parents and their children and will continue to be such regardless of my column heading!

"Why is it then," you may well ask, "why alcoholics, old ladies on street corners and various 'quirky' characters have been paraded on these pages?" or, "What do these off the trackers have to do with us as parents?"

My answer would be this—That parents, far more than the merely married or single individual, have a tremendous obligation to know and comprehend LIFE in all its phases and manifestations. "Moriarty," the alcoholic and braggart set down in this column some time ago, was not born so—he BECAME so. Your own child may face the same unhappy situation when becomes a so-called "adult!"

Problem personalities do not just spring into being out of thin air. For every end there is a beginning, for every cause—an effect! Parents should keep this thought forever in their minds—and along with it should go another and humble one, the cornerstone of tolerance and good parenthood—"There, but for the Grace of God, go I or mine!"

KEEP OIL LEVEL UP

There is an excellent advantage in keeping the supply of crankcase oil at the full level, according to the National Automobile Club. It results in consumption economy. The lower the level, generally speaking, the hotter the oil gets in use. That means more of it will evaporate. This is worth bearing in mind on a long trip when consumption is greater than usual.

BLUSHING

It wasn't supposed to happen . . . but it did. The man dubbed the greatest ringman pound-for-pound in boxing today took one heck of a shellacking from new world middleweight champ Randy Turpin, the young Englishman.

Films of the bout give conclusive proof that Sugar Ray, the Kadillac Kid from Harlem, was outgunned from the start. Twenty-three-year-old Turpin showed a master boxer a few tricks. Truth is, Robinson was the inferior fighter throughout the battle. Turpin's triumph was by no stretch a fluke. His was much more than a decision. Even a hit-and-miss boxing fan could detect, after viewing the movies, the Briton's clear-cut victory.

The return go next month in New York could go down in fistiana's history book as the greatest brawl of all time. Only two men, Jake LaMotta being the other, have whipped Sugar Ray. Turpin has the markings of another Robinson, with youth, punch and skill already accounted for.

Regardless of the September outcome, either man proudly will rule the 155 pound division. The old maxim: "it takes a great man to beat a great man, "was never more appropriate.

PREDICTION: Sugar Ray Robinson will FAIL to regain his short-lived championship. (For references, see the pictures of the fight; Turpin is terrific, capital "t.")

HOMETOWN BOY

The Great Experiment with Ed Cereghino is moving along nicely. Ed's progress in "big-time" ball still is ahead of schedule. The oversized Daly City lad worked twice last week, getting a win in his fourth starting effort and being relieved Sunday against Hollywood. No pro hurler would be afraid to own Eddie's five-hit, 3-1 victory over Los Angeles, July 24.

The feat assured Cereghino a regular role. Undoubtedly it restored his confidence after his other wobbly appearances. In Sunday's windup game at Hollywood, the Bonus Blond turned in four hitless and runless innings until the Stars got a rally going. Pinchmanager Joe Orengo thought it wise to bench Ed in the sixth, sending in Elmer Singleton, who got the loss.

As of Sunday, Cereghino's record was 2-2. With each assignment he is getting sharper and more polished. And one thing in Ed's favor. He's got as much confidence as his superiors have in him.

Any team which invests upwards of $65,000 for a 17 year old pitcher must think its "find" has something on the ball. Young Cereghino, the "second DiMaggio" in another department, has plenty on the ball. Coast leaguers are finding this out, for sure!

BUSHBALLERS

No wonder Vince & Fred, the liquor store gentlemen from the hilltop are causing a fuss about their AA baseball nine. It's quite a club. One of the top Double A outfits in the San Francisco area, no less. Sunday, the Liquor Lads dropped a 5-1 game to San Quentin . . . at San Quentin, where else? But write the loss off, if you please. After all, the San Quentin bunch has played together as a unit longer. Also, the men in gray have much more time to practice.

To get back to facts, we were saying? Oh yeah, the local club. Darn good and getting better. Four members of San Francisco State college's varsity are starters for Vince & Fred's. The college foursome would be a good nucleus for any semi-pro or even pro club.

State Comes Out $73 Million In The Black

Aug. 2— (CNS) — California's general fund revenues exceded expenditures by $73 million dollars during the fiscal year closed June 30, State Controller Thomas H. Kuchel reported today.

In an end-of-the-month statement for June, the controller said the state started a new fiscal year with a bank balance of $109 million, compared to $28 million on the same date in 1950.

Revenues for the year increased 23 per cent, or $124 million, reaching a total of $666 million.

On the other hand, expenditures increased $14 million, and totaled $593 million.

The sales and use tax was the principal revenue producer for the year, bringing $401 million into the general fund. Other revenues included bank and corporation and income taxes, $98 million; personal income tax, $75 million; pari-mutuel fees, $3 million; liquor taxes, $18 million; inheritance tax, $20 million; gift tax, $1 million, insurance companies tax, $23 million; royalties and other revenues from state lands, $207 thousand; sundry other revenue, $15 million; interest on investments and treasury deposits, $6 million; private car tax, $890 thousand.

Apportionments for elementary schools, high schools and junior colleges totaled $210 million; University of California, $36 million; school building aid, $6 million; bond interest and redemption, $5 million; fixed charges and appropriations, $186 million; aid to needy children, $33 million; needy aged, $110 million and needy blind, $5 million.

Education Board Opens Meetings

Bi-monthly meetings of the county board of education henceforth will be open to the public, it was announced this week.

Superintendent James Tormey said the meetings will be held the second and fourth Wednesday of each month, beginning August 29 at Redwood City.

"The county board feels that it is to the public interest that its meetings should be open to the public, Tormey said.

The superintendent said that the state law does not require the board meetings to be public.

Under the new schedule the meetings will be held at 10 a.m. in Tormey's office in the courthouse.

Employment Troubles

Wild Life Conservation Board Expert's Job Has Contract Troubles

by Henry C. MacArthur

(CNS)—Some peculiar fiscal antics are surrounding the employment of Seth Gordon, formerly of Pennsylvania, by the Wild Life Conservation Board.

Gordon, who originally came to California on a $90-a-day and expenses contract from the eastern state, was assigned the task of spending $9,000,000 in three years for the purpose of conserving the fish and game resources of California.

Later, his contract was reduced to $60-a-day and expenses by the members of the Wildlife Conservation Board.

Gordon's last contract with the board ran out in February of this year, but the eastern expert did not pack his grip and return to his home state of Pennsylvania.

Sticks With Job

Rather, he stayed on the job, and according to the controller's office, drew his final check in May for services terminating in February.

The wild-life conservation board renewed Gordon's contract in June of this year, for another 215 days, at the $60-a-day and expenses rate. The renewal date was June 6, according to officials in the department of natural resources. And the total Gordon can draw under the new contract amounts to $12,-900 in salary.

This leaves, however, a period from February 28 to June 6, when no contract was in effect that Gordon normally would be without salary. He was, however, on the job some of the time, as minutes of the June 23 meeting of the Fish and Game Commission at Lake Tahoe show Gordon attended as a representative of the Wild Life Conservation Board.

Asked whether Gordon was being paid for the interim, officials of the Division of Natural Resources, which now handles fiscal affairs for fish and game, and the State Department of Finance, said they understand that Gordon's contract is being "back-dated" to cover the period from February 28 to June 6. Finance explained that back-dating would necessitate any claims filed by Gordon going before the State Board of Control before they could be paid.

No Secret

It is no secret that Gordon has been mentioned prominently as a possible director for the new Division of Fish and Game, a job which will pay the recipient $13,000 annually, or slightly more than Gordan's contract for the rest of this year.

The new appointment, it is expected, will be made next September, when the re-organization law voted by the legislature, goes into effect.

Meanwhile, the fish and game expert has another $3,000,000 to spend in wild life conservation activities. This sum was voted by the state legislature to augment the construction activities recommended for wild life conservation and to cover the amount of increase in materials, supplies and labor since the original appropriation was made. The new $3,000,-000 comes from horse racing funds.

All of which means that Gordon will have recommended the expenditure of $12,000,000 of the taxpayers' money before his job is completed in this state and will have placed himself in a position to be a candidate for a $13,000-a-year job, which, some observers state, isn't bad for an out-of-state man.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

The Woman's Job

It is every woman's job today to keep the family's expenses well within the limit of the family income.

If she isn't doing that she is a failure as a wife and as a woman.

And if she doesn't realize the supreme importance of this simple rule she is asking for unhappiness, and she is going to get it.

No intelligent woman ought to worry habitually about money. Financial crises arise, of course, but it is an elementary part of intelligent living to solve these problems first, and let the rest of the domestic arrangements accommodate themselves to whatever conditions arise.

"... within the family income ..."

Money worries put a very special type of wrinkles in a woman's face, and a special type of sharpness into her voice. Such a woman feels helpless in the cruel trap of her children's increasing demands, the steadily rising price of everything that ever made life pleasant, the maddening restrictions that meet her at every turn.

One such woman wrote me a few weeks ago; Milla Archibald of Worcester says she is desperate to the point of thinking of an overdose of sleeping pills.

"Oh, yes, we have a car and television and a house—none of them fully paid for," writes Milla bitterly. "Is that extravagance, when every other family in the block, some of them not as well off as we are, has the same things? Is it unreasonable for our children to want to do what others do?

"Rod, at 17, wants to go to college in California. Betty-Belle, who is gifted, wants a course of dramatic art. They are clever and ambitious; is it for Bill and me to discourage them?

"But I can't go on. I can't do it. Bill's income is $100 a week. Payments on house, equipments, insurance and taxes come to $207 a month. We can barely eat on what is left, and keep the car going. We still owe more than three thousand on the children's dentist bills, and Bill's mother makes an occasional desperate appeal for funds. Not large sums, considering her claim of love and blood, but even $25 is a lot for us. Our war bonds are gone; we haven't a house big enough to divide and rent in part, and If I get a job it hardly pays for the woman I would have to hire to care for the house. Until things go back to normal we can only stretch our balance at the bank as long as we may, and then what?"

There is the root of Milla's despair, in that last sentence. "Until things go back to normal." Milla, things aren't going back to normal. This—this today, is normal for today. And tomorrow, which may be worse, will be normal for tomorrow. Nightly England's people have been standing in line for food for 10 years, and going without fats and meat and eggs except on exceptional occasions. Is that normal? What would you think of an Englishwoman who sulked until things went back to Victoria's times, when an ordinary housewife could contemplate making a pound cake every week; "take 12 eggs, 1 pound of fine butter, 4 cups sugar" and so on?

Just get it into your head, Milla, that we are living through the most exciting and cataclysmic time the old earth ever has known. If you can feed your children at all, clothe them at all, get them both jobs that will help, you are still to be counted in the small tenth of humanity that is fortunate.

Change. Change everything. Tear everything up by the roots. Move away to some shabby little suburban—or better yet, country house that perhaps hasn't even electric light yet. Cut down to buying meat once a week. Shake those young people awake. Stop all that silly talk of dramatic schools and western colleges. I live in a western college town, and half the youngsters at school shouldn't be here at all. They should be at home, helping. Five hundred of them have cars—at Dad's expense. More than 500 of them aren't working at all, they are here for the fun.

It's about time we impressed upon our children the fact that we can no longer meet their idle, romantic fancies for college and the stage and travel and cars and social competition generally. Whole nations are hungry, and shelter and food may become terrifying problems to us, too, one of these days.

So you and Bill get under that income, Milla, no matter what drastic re-adjustments you have to make to do it. Get away. Get into a neighborhood that will envy you for your advantages rather than hold before your children's eyes a contrast.

A STUDY IN BOOKS TO PUMPS

Youth is no handicap to Ray Anderson, 19, and Milt Tromborg, 19, who purchased their own Shell Oil station at Vale and Mission streets in June after graduation from Jefferson High School.

Ray and Milt are "old hands" in the service station business. Milt has been working at service stations, off and on, since 1946 and Ray said that he has been associated was gas stations since he was 9-years-old.

Business Good

According to the two partners in this enterprise, business has been exceptionally good in comparison with sales for the previous month.

Besides selling gasoline products, Ray and Milt wash and lubricate cars, do minor repair work, and sell automobile accessories as a sideline.

Comfortable Lounge

For the convenience of patrons who are waiting to have their cars serviced, there is a lounge replete with two stuffed chairs, a juke box, and a chesterfield which will be installed. The room is decorated with pictures "from one of the finest collections of automobile racing photographs in California," according to Milt.

The service station opens at 7 a.m. and closes at 11 in the evening. Milt and Ray alternate each week on the evening shift.

Emphasizing the fact that they are sole owners of the establishment, Milt said, "this is our own enterprise."

Milt, Active Scholar

Milt was Vice President of the Jefferson High Student Body in Spring, 1951, and also editor of the school paper "Totem-pole."

Both boys are midget-car-racing enthusiasts and Ray said he hopes to drive midgets some day. Milt's father has been a midget racing referee and "he had one of the best midget racing-cars on the Pacific coast in 1945-46."

Mold Step Ttaken

These enterprizing youths have taken a bold step in the business world and they can utilize any additional patronage you wish to extend to them. "Ray Anderson and Milt Tromborg, Proprietors" can offer you the service to which you are accustomed.

Colonial Gift Shop To Go Out Of Business

After serving many Daly City residents for over four years with a class of exclusive gift items, J. Tom Rae, owner, has decided to liquidate his Colonial Gift Shop business at 6272 Mission Street in Daly City.

Mr. Rae has recently returned to a civil service position with the State of California, and does not have the time to devote to outside business interests.

A special liquidation sale will be held from now until September 15. All articles in the store will be greatly reduced in price, and everyone is urged to drop in the Gift Shop to look over the outstanding values.

Bearing in mind that the Christmas season soon will be here, this seems like a pretty good time to stock up on gifts.

Mr. Rae has been assisted by his sister, Mrs. Gretta Owne, and they wish to thank their many customers and friends for their patronage over the past few years. Both said they have enjoyed their business relations in Daly City.

by Cy Donaldson

Colma has the distinction of being the only city in the world where the cemetaries of a larger city (San Francisco) are within the boundaries of a smaller city.

Within Colma's approximate three square miles there are fifteen cemetaries—Greek, Japanese, Italian, Serbian, City of San Francisco, Olivet, Woodlawn, Greenlawn, Eternal Home, Chevera Kadisha, Salem, Home of Peace, Hills of Eternity, Holy Cross, and Cypress Lawn.

The population of Colma has decreased from 500 during its incorpation, as Lawndale in 1924 to 276 residents, many of whom are connected with the cemetaries or surrounding nurseries in a basiness capacity.

According to Mr. Edward Weisenburger, city clerk of Colma for 27 years and proprietor of a monument works, there have been over 500,000 burials conducted in Colma within the last 65 years. 850 to 1000 burials are conducted each month.

City revenues are derived from a $1 fee per burial and fines levied against traffic violators. City taxes are unknown to Colma's residents. The attractive white-stucco city hall has been constructed without cost to the residents.

Colma does not have its own jail, post office, or chamber of commerce. Businessmen in Colma have no need for the latter civic group because their business interests are protected from market fluctuations, depression, or lack of publicity.

Everyone of the city officials—Mayor John Price; Councilmen Ray Attoboni, Bartley Flynn, Peter Barsi, and John Newton; City Clerk Edward Weisenburger; City Judge James Halley; Treasurer Gilbert Parker; and Police Chief Joseph Ryan—or their relatives have or did have some connection with one of the cemetaries, nurseries, or monument works in Colma.

There is no indebtedness in Colma and few roads to improve. The main road in Colma is a state highway maintained by San Mateo county.

Edward A. Weisenburger, 80, is one of the oldest city clerks in California, the second oldest living resident in Colma. Mr. Weisenburger moved to Colma in 1897 after serving a stone cutting apprenticeship in Southern California.

Mr. Wiesenburger pointed to a white marble monument resting in the undergrowth near his sheds and said, "That monument has quite a history behind it."

He related the history of this bulky mass which was shipped from Italy at the turn of the century to San Francisco en route to a dictator in some South American country.

"The dictator—I don't know his name," said Mr. Weisenburger, "was beheaded before the monument was shipped and that monument has been here for over fifty years."

According to Chief of Police Joseph Ryan, Colma is one of the few places which allow bookies and gangsters to remain unmolested. "We have more bookies and gangsters than are found operating in the whole state of California," he said. "We always get them in the end," he explained, pointing to row upon row of tomb stones.

Hunters May Have Chance At 4,000 Antlerless Deer

California hunters may have a chance to harvest 4,000 anterless deer this fall which State and Federal agencies claim might otherwise be lost to starvation, disease, or other results of concentration and overbrowsed ranges.

The California Fish and Game Commission gave its approval to special hunting seasons for the taking of 2,300 animals from the Devil's Garden area of Modoc County, and 1,700 from the Lassen-Washoe range in Lassen and Plumas counties. Both hunts were recommended by inter-State study committees.

The Commission's action was taken after public hearings in the areas where the controlled hunts will be held. Both seasons are subject to approval of the Director of Natural Resources and the Governor.

N. M. Hughes, chairman of the big game animals committee of the Associated Sportsmen of California, told commissioners that he felt that the numbers of deer proposed to be taken in California during the special hunts were "conservative." He reported that the State of Oregon and Nevada have already approved antlerless seasons on both herds.

"I have perfect confidence that neither of these proposals to bring the number of animals in balance with forage will harm the heard," Hughes stated.

Ben Glading, chief of Game Conservation, Division of Fish and Game, said that details of the two hunting seasons will be announced when final approval is received from the Governor and the Director of Natural Resources.

Three Accidents Reported Here

Involved in one of a series of minor automobile accidents this week were cars belonging to John B. Milder, 1816 Sweetwood drive, Colma, and Thomas P. Sullivan, 1735 Dolores street, San Francisco.

The accident took place at 7046 Mission street last Thursday afternoon and only property damage was sustained.

At the intersection of Templeton and Mission streets, also Thursday afternoon, another automobile accident took place in which damage to the cars was the extent of the loss. Persons involved were Otto William Hubka, 1122 Brunswick street, and Eleanor Mable Carle, 863 Brunswick street.

Cars belonging to Henry Sernack, 101 Shakespeare street, and James Eagen, 6279 Mission street, ace together in a minor accident in front of 103 Shakespeare street, Sunday night. Damage was slight.

Parents Argue Over Baby

Preventing a baby from being taken away from a distraught mother engaged efforts of Daly City police during the early hours of last Friday morning.

Mrs. Marie Roberts entered the station at this hour to inform officers that on order of her husband the persons with whom she and the baby had been living for the past four days were refusing to let her have the child.

She state further that this couple took care of the child whenever she went out and that when she returned today they withheld the baby from her because of her husband's wishes.

Officers accompanying Mrs. Roberts to the home where the baby was, found the husband and told him that official custody of the baby was a matter for the courts to decide.

The baby was given to Mrs. Roberts who was to take it to her mother's home in San Francisco.

California's Population Expected To Increase 1,000,000 Next Year

Aug. 2. (CNS)—Current population estimates for California by the close of the 1953 fiscal year total 11,525,000, the State Department of Finance reported here this week.

Civilian population of this number, the department said, is expected to be 11,325,000.

These figures compare to 10,636,000 in the state at the close of the 1950 census, of which 10,465,000 were civilian population. The 1953 increase is fived at 2.5 per cent over the previous year.

The department made the figures public in connection with estimates for the 1952-53 state budget, pointing out that population will be a factor as the state computes expenditures of more than a billion dollars.

The trend for the budget, according to T. H. Mugford, deputy finance director in charge of budget operations, will be upward.

At present estimates, no decrease in any category is expected except possibly a small one in the cotton materials the state purchases. Cotton goods were up this year, the department's memorandum pointed out, but are expected to be more plentiful in line with a larger cotton crop not only in California, but throughout the nation.

The department's memorandum also pointed out that civilian goods at the present time "are at record levels."

But, it added, the full force of the defense program will not be felt until 1952-53, when shortages are expected to appear which "may have a very real influence upon the operations of both industry and government."

Liquors Lose 5-1, Gain Second Place Tie In AA League

Vince & Fred's semi-pro baseball team lost their second straight game to San Quentin last Sunday by a score of 5-1. This loss gives them a tie for second place in AA competition with the Regal Pale nine.

Leading for six innings, the liquors were defeated as three unearned runs crossed the plate for the "rock pulverizers" in the seventh inning. A wild throw to first base by a liquorman opened the flood gates and spelled defeat for the local club.

Bob Arata, left-fielder, led the home-towners at the plate with two hits and Fred Fazzio, 1b, batted in the liquor's only run.

The liquormen missed the services of their ace left-hander Vince Voto who was with the army reserve.

Next Sunday at 2 o'clock Vince & Fred's meet Regal Pale at Marchbanks for the second place play-off game.

State To Crack Down On Traffic Ticket Violators By Withholding Licenses

(CNS) — After September 22, it's going to be a lot harder to evade those traffic tickets.

This is the opinion of State Senator Ray Judah, of Santa Cruz, who sponsored and had signed a bill making it tough to get out of paying traffic fines.

In substance, Judah's bill, which was a part of a program for the rejuventation of traffic law enforcement throughout the state, calls for a report to motor vehicles from justices of the peace and municipal courts five days after the date the violator is supposed to appear.

The Motor Vehicle Department will keep the notice on file, and when the violator appears for a new drivers license, the department will refuse to issue the license until the traffic violation is cleared.

This, says the senator, is a simple method of cleaning up about 80,000 traffic violations throughout the state, which have occurred over the past few years, and have not been settled by the courts, for the reason the violators have failed to appear and pay the fines imposed.

More Interest

And also, it will result, Judah says, in making the public slightly more interested in the traffic violation ticket, because the driver's license is involved and few people will be without an operators license for the sake of a few dollars traffic fine.

Judah's bill is the result of a senate interim committee study on traffic violations problems, a study which went into various phases of law violation with the thought of making corrections to ease work on the Highway Patrol, see that violators were brought to justice, and rejuvenate the coffers of cities and counties through the collection of traffic fines.

"There will be," Judah said, "a lot of lost motion on the part of the California Highway Patrol halted because of this bill. While it may take some time for its effectivenes to be felt, nevertheless, the patrol will find that eventually, not as many warrants will have to be served."

New Licenses

The point of the bill is that its full effectiveness will not be felt for a period of approximately four years, as the department of motor vehicles issues new licenses every four years. In other words, Licenses are being issued all the time, but all holders of operators licenses must apply for new cards sometime during the four year period.

In addition to adoption of the law, an arppopriation was made to the department of motor vehicles to carry out the provisions of installing and providing a check of files which will contain the notices sent to the department by justices of the peace and municipal judges.

Checked

Every application for a new license, or a renewed license will be checked against this file when it is set up, and unless the motorist has a clean bill of health, the department under the new law, cannot issue a new license.

Judah has more plans to make enforcement of the laws easier for California's officials. He says that at the next session of the legislature, he intends to press for a measure which will require more clear definition of residences. At the present time, many persons use an RFD number, and this makes it difficut in many instances for officers to locate violators.

Local Children Attend Dancing Convention Held In Hollywood

Nearly 700 teachers of the dance recently attended a convention of the National Association of Dance and Affiliated Artists at the Hollywood Masonic Temple in Hollywood.

Among those attending were many local teachers, including Leota, of the Leota Studio of the Dance, Rancho Buri Buri.

Local children who attended the convention with Leota were Diana Quail, 9, and Laurel Lee Swager, 8.

The association is the largest of its kind in the United States, and when it met drew teachers from all over the nation, as well as Canada. There are 12 branches of the chapters in eight European countries.

While the two girls were in Hollywood they received training from Mme. Katheryn Etienne, world famous dance teacher.

BAD COLD BRINGS GIRL SPECIAL RIDE

A bad cold brought Joan Lindquist, 8, 233 Willits street, a ride to and from the Junipero Serra hospital in a Daly City police radio car early Tuesday morning.

The trip was the result of the child's father calling the police and requesting help for his daughter as she was having great difficulty in breathing. She was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Katherine Hoose, 6, of 462 Crocker avenue, also had police attention this week. Saturday she was reported missing by her mother, Mrs. L .T. Hoose, but hardly had the police started looking for her than the child returned home on her own.

PET SHOW AT MARCHBANK PARK
by Erle Johnson

Last Friday afternoon Marchbank Park was the scene of the Daly City Recreation Department's Annual Summer Pet Show. There were many pets of all categories to be admired by the large crowd in attendance. Fortunately there were enough classifications in the special events and general events that practically everyone received an award for something or other. The only disappointment this year was the lack of frogs and turtles to perform for the crowd. In the past the frog jumping event was something to witness, and the turtle race was always good for laughs. There were two turtles entered but they were not the racing variety.

Marchbanks being the host naturally had the largest representation and consequently won the most prizes, however, the high school playground was well represented. Lincoln playground and Crocker playground faired well considering the distance the owners had to bring their pets. The cats and dogs had their dislikes of each other, but the directors were careful in seeing that they each kept their respective corners of the judging area. Incidently, the upper level proved to be useful for another recreation activity. The area was perfect for the animals with its fences and lines which were used to segregate the pets. There was every conceivable pet at the show imaginable. From a pair of "Daddy-long-legs" spiders to a beautiful large Boxer.

The following is a list of winners and the classification for which they received their award: CATS—Donna Phillips, Robert Hudson, J. Berluchi, Bobby Rasmussen, Ray Cattelan, Arleen Callan, Jimmy Orlich, Arleen Trapp, Drena Guaraldi, Darleen Haynes and Mary Lou Jordon. DOGS—Florida Johnson, Don Jennings, Bobby Bathis, George Johnson, Jimmy Hardin, and Amelia Upchurch. Larraine Romero, Mary Summer, Verna Weston, Diane Colthurst, Myron Kay, Janice Owen and Sue Scott also won ribbons for their dogs. Maybe I should say the dogs won ribbons for their owners. FOWL AND BIRDS — Joe Sacchieri, Cathy Garrans, Arlene Trapp, Arlene Callan and Marilyn Whinnen, the last three girls brought seaguls, (we think they were seaguls anyway?) RODENTS—Carol Lembi, Judy Gerrans, Robert Rector and Ralph North. REPTILES—Carol Romero, Louis Dolan, and Carol Romero.

These boys and girls were winners in the GENERAL AWARDS: Jimmy Hardin, Arleen Trapp and Callan, Myron Kay, Carol Romero. These people won second, third and fourth places in the general competition: Darlene Haynes, Drena Guaraldi, Dick Bricker, Marilyn Whinen, Amelia Upchurch, Ralph North, Joe Sacchiri and Bob Hudson.

After the Pet Show the youngsters from the visiting playgrounds had a wonderful time playing on the apparatus on the middle-level. All in all the event was a happy one, it was for the youngsters but we're NOT too certain about all of the animals and other pets.

A word of thanks for the cooperation received by members of the recreation staff from the many parents present.

ARTS AND CRAFTS
by Regina Warchot

The children rested at arts and crafts this week. There wasn't the buzzing, humming and excited atmosphere that there was last week.

A quiet, peaceful, contented atmosphere, in which the craft directors were allowed to hear themselves think, now prevailed. For the children were no longer making airplanes, birds, and birdies; instead, they were content to work diligently on rabbits and turtles. For those old, old, characters, the turtoise and the hare are always new to children. But the images of these characters lead the children into the realm of fairy land instead of into the busy adventurous world that the airplanes do. However, the directors also realize that this calmness is just the lull before the storm—for what child can sit still for an hour!

Friday, July 27, the craft directors were acting as two of the judges for the Pet Show at Marchbank Park. The names listed below are the names of the owners of the pets who won First Place in each specific category mentioned. Myron Kay's Boxer was the largest dog. Janice Owen's Pomeranien was the smallest dog. Sue Scott's Cocker's Cocker had the longest fur. Lorraine Romero's Fox-Terrier and Mary Summer's Toy Shepard both won first place for tricks. Diane Colthurst's Cocker and Scotty, and Verna Weston's Cocker-Terrier tied for first place for the best cared for dog.

MARCHBANK PLAYGROUND
by Bucky Linhares

The Skateland Outing will be sure to be on next years recreational program.

Everyone attending this outstanding event had an exceptionally wonderful time. The day started off with two and a half hours of roller skating and was followed by a tour of the fabulous playland at the beach. The party from Marchbank spent a good deal of time in the famous Fun House and also visited other places of interest before calling it a day.

On last Friday, Marchbank was the scene of Daly City's Annual Pet Show. Among the pets on exhibition were dogs, cats, guinea pigs, hamsters, rabbits, seagulls, turtles, and even a lowly grasshopper who won first prize as the smallest pet.

Friday, August 3, Marchbank will have a doll show. All types of dolls—store-bought dolls as well as homemade, large, small, wooden, glass, paper, and rubber—as well as stuffed animals may be entered in this show. And don't forget awards will be given to all.

All those interested in seeing the San Francisco Seals play, will be admitted to Seals Stadium free of charge on Saturday, August 4th. All those interested should obtain a permission slip from the director.

On Wednesday, August 8, each playground will be fre to determine its own outing. Suggestions are welcome from all.

Those interested in entering a city wide table tennis tournament are requested to sign up at the High School Game Room as soon as possible. The tournament is open to all ages and will be held on Friday, August 10th.

HIGH SCHOOL
by M. Erickson and L. Reese

Wednesday, July 25, 55 boys and girls from the Playground enjoyed a day at Playland at the Beach. Skating was enjoyed by all from 11:00 o'clock until 1:00 p.m. Many participated in the races which were a popular part of the program. Winning preliminary races were: Joe Murphy in the boys under 11 group, Ann Nolan in the girls group, and John Patton. Carol Szatmary distinguished herself by winning in the final races. She received a free pass for a future skate.

After two hours of skating the rest of the afternoon was spent riding the concessions and enjoying the sights of the Beach.

The weekly ping pong tournament produced a new champion, Joe Earnshaw, who defeated Al Figone 21-9, 21-13, in the finals. Ron Bourdon, Dale Fambrini, Don Miller, Don North, Gerald Kennedy, and Charles Olson provided stiff competition.

Everyone is going to the baseball game Saturday. See you there.

The game was played at Lincoln Park with Lincoln winning 122-82 to bring Lincoln's record to two wins and no runs. Lincoln was led by the magnificent playing and scoring of battling Larry Hutchinson. Larry scored 46 points. The scoring went as follows: Joe Fischer 26, Gene Lorenzo 24, Ted Freeland 20 points, Darrel Hutchinson 4, and Wesley Yates 2 points.
